The Sports Museum is Now Accepting Entries for the 14th Annual Will McDonough Writing Contest

The Sports Museum is once again accepting entries for The Will McDonough Writing Contest. Students in grades 4-12 are encouraged to apply.

The contest is named in honor of the long-time Boston Globe sports columnist and is designed to get kids excited about writing by exploring New England's greatest passion: sports!

The Sports Museum is asking principals and teachers to let their students know about The 2018 Will McDonough Writing Contest. Essays will be judged on topic development, organization, style, and mechanics.

Entries from schools will be accepted via US mail. Students can also enter online at: www.sportsmuseum.org. The deadline for submission is February 21, 2018. The winners will be announced via The Sports Museum's website on March 5.

First-place winners, along with their guests, writers and editors from the Boston Globe, sponsors, and members of the McDonough family will participate in an award ceremony at The Sports Museum within TD Garden. This year's ceremony will take place prior to the Celtics vs. Indiana Pacers game on March 11th. Winners will also receive a Kindle.

If you have any questions about The 2018 Will McDonough Writing Contest, please call Deborah Kim at (617) 624-1229.

We look forward to reading this year's essays.

* Please be advised the deadline is during February vacation.
