The Sports Museum

The Sports Museum is a nonprofit organization that leverages the impact of sports in Boston to captivate and motivate at-risk youth through educational programs that puts them on the path to success in school -- and in life.

For the past 40 years, The Sports Museum has celebrated the championship character of Boston sports and we continue to do so through a half-mile of exhibits at TD Garden. However, supporting The Sports Museum today means so much more: it fuels the outreach programs that make a difference in the lives of our young people.

- ❖ Programs like BOSTON vs BULLIES, an award-winning program featuring Mookie Betts, Patrick Chung, Aly Raisman and other current Boston athletes that is designed to stop bullying in our schools and in our communities
- ❖ And programs such as STAND STRONG, an experiential program built around the hallmarks of good character – namely, Teamwork, Determination, Responsibility, Courage, and Fairness

Boston sports has power. Through programs like Boston vs Bullies and Stand Strong, The Sports Museum has found a way to harness that power to help kids. It is a winning gameplan that is producing championship-level results. So join our team today!
