

ROLE PLAY: Kids Who Get Bullied Response

Victim Scenario 1

Bully 1: Hey nice jacket, where did you get it, out of the recycle bin?

Bully 2: Ask your mom to start taking you to real stores.

Victim Response:

Victim: I like this jacket. (The victim calmly walks away.)

Victim Optional Response:

Victim: I like this jacket, and I like yours too. Where did you get it?

Victim Scenario 2

Bully 1: Nice job in the game today, you didn't make one shot.

Bully 2: Why don't you just quit the team, you are making us lose.

Victim Response:

Victim: I like being on the team, so I'm not going to quit.

Victim Scenario 3

Bully 1: So you got another A on the math test.

Bully 2: Why don't you go out and have fun with your friends once in a while rather than studying all the time?

Bully 1: Because she/he has no friends

Victim Response:

Victim: I like math and I'm proud of my work.

Victim Optional Response:

Victim: I get A's because I really like math. That wasn't a nice thing to say to me.
